< Registration and Conference Information >

This is a conference for members of the aging community. The conference is hosted by the Ohio Association of Gerontology and Education, the Alzheimer's Association, Greater East Ohio Chapter, and The Youngstown State University Gerontology Program.

From the OAGE President

We are delighted that the OAGE Conference and Annual Meeting will be held this year at Youngstown State University. This year's conference, our 36th, will focus on serving the underserved. Given the challenging economic times and the current concerns about income security and adequate health care for our nation's older population, this theme has never been timelier. Please join with students and professionals around the state and region in this important dialogue about research and practice challenges facing us today and tomorrow.
